Around the World with Stan Delaplane

MOSCOW—"The young folks here are simply nuts about button-down-collared shirts. Offer to buy them off your back. Illegal to sell them. Gifts are OK.

Tipping is officially nonexistent. But waitresses, maids and porters are much encouraged by a little 'souvenir.' A ball-point pen is great. So are American cigarettes and chewing gum. Kennedy half dollars and cheap dark glasses."

(Robin Kinkead was a correspondent in Russia 30 years ago. He made his first return visit for us on the new Pan American flights between the U.S. and Moscow. He sent these.)

"Customs and health inspections now very simple. You must list your foreign currency, but they don't ask to see it.

"Keep receipts for money changed into rubles. Without it, you can't change leftover rubles back to dollars.

"Beriozka—hard money shops—are cheapest places for tourists to buy. Men's and women's fur hats, $12 to $40. American cigarettes 33 cents. Scotch whisky and English gin are cheaper than the U.S.

"Best buys are jewelry, amber, enameled 'Palik' ware boxes, Painted wood called 'kustarny'."

"Moscow now has very wide streets, full of traffic. There are underpasses. During the Stalin era, they put up seven 30-story buildings in the Woolworth style. One is the Ukraine Hotel with 2,000 rooms. A new hotel on Red Square, the Rossiya, has 6,000 rooms.

"There are plugs for the bathtubs now, and the traveler no longer has to bring soap and toilet paper. (But it's a good idea to bring your own. The Russian brands need improvement.)"

"Bread is no longer rationed. Hotels have a buffet on each floor where you can get hot water to make coffee or tea in your room. You can get snacks and breakfast there, too.

"Take plenty of $1 bills and small change. Foreign money shops are usually short. You might wind up with a handful of French or Swiss small coins."

"Did you mention a place in Rome once for ice cream?"

I did. The ice cream place next to Tre Scalini in the Piazza Navona has the BEST ice cream in the world. And if you go for one of their sundaes at 3 in the afternoon, forget dinner that night.

Now, a Roman—a real SPOR Roman—say no. He says the BEST ice cream is a shop on Via San Filippo Neri, almost on the corner of Viale Romania. And he gives a bow to Giolitti next to the Parliament Building.

"Anything on big game fishing in Hawaii and where to go?"

The best of it is off the Kona coast of the Big Island. Charter boats for five or six are $125 a day. Best information from Pan American Airways or Hawaii Visitors Bureau who promote the annual Billfish Tournament here with 85 boats at sea for five days.

"My husband being a golf nut won't go to Mexico unless we are near a golf course."

A list of 70 towns in Mexico with golf courses is free by writing Dan Sanborn Travel, McAllen, Texas, who hopes you buy Mexican auto insurance from him.

"Where to buy a hammock in Mexico..."

The best are made in the hot countries where they need that air circulation. Merida in Yucatan. Don't get the ones made of cactus fiber. They scratch. Get the giant size hamaca matrimonial made of cotton string. You sleep in these crossways. And they'll hold a family. Some hammock!

"I wish we could find how to fly to Hawaii cheaply..."

They're already talking about a $50 fare. Presently it's $200 round trip from West Coast cities, $75 if you are 12 to 22, half fare under that. Inside the islands, Hawaiian Air time table shows half fare family plan, youth plan, senior citizens' fares (over 65), and lower fares if you fly after midnight.

"... a London pub with action?"

Shepherd's in Shepherd's Market, a hideaway, tiny street area behind the hotels that front on Piccadilly. That's where the action is.

Dealers Put Up Money To Backup Promises

Since Vel Miletich and Parnelli Jones joined forces at their Torrance Ford dealership, they've been trying to convince people they really mean it when they say, "Service is our first concern."

Now, they think they've found a way. And it's a simple solution.

Effective immediately Jones and Miletich will pay each customer—at the rate of $5 per head—every time the dealership is found lacking in courtesy, promptness, or respect.

All the customer needs do is tell the switchboard operator who slipped up and the customer will receive a "Slip-up Slip" worth $5 in the service department.

"This puts our money where our mouth is," the two said.

"But," adds Miletich, "since we feel we already have the most courteous staff in the Southland, we don't anticipate having to give out too many 'Slip-up Slips.'"

"And more important," Jones explains, "we hope this will be another step in establishing a friendlier climate between us and the car-buying public."

Police List Man's Death As Natural

Death claimed a 52-year-old Torrance plumber sometime Saturday night or early Sunday.

Dead on arrival at Little Company of Mary Hospital was Roman Pryor, 2605 Carson St. He apparently died of natural causes, police said.

The victim's wife Helen discovered the body at 11:45 a.m. Sunday.

Pryor had been a plumber with Hickman Brothers, Torrance.

Carson Band Will March On Sunday

The Los Caballeros Youth Band of Carson will march and play at the Los Angeles County Fair Sunday.

The Los Angeles County Fair, one of the largest in the country, will host the youth bands from the Southern California area. The parade will start at 2 p.m.

"The Cabbies," official host band of the city of Carson, are under the direction of Bob Cotton.

After the parade, the band members will have the opportunity to see the fair.
